

STATE OF TEXAS
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

As part of our state's dynamic workforce, women continue to make significant contributions, playing important roles throughout our economy.

Women have contributed to the construction industry's success in all facets, in roles varying from chief executive officer to engineer to architect to tradeswoman. Their many contributions have paved the way to a more prosperous future for the Lone Star State.

Each year, a weeklong awareness campaign is conducted during March to honor women in the construction industry and to raise awareness of their important role in building the future of Texas.

At this time, I encourage all Texans to join in recognizing the contributions of women in the construction industry and the industry's important role in the economic prosperity of this great state.

Therefore, I, Rick Perry, Governor of Texas, do hereby proclaim March 7-13, 2010,

Women in Construction Week

in Texas, and urge the appropriate recognition whereof.

In official recognition whereof,
I hereby affix my signature this the 25th day of February, 2010.

Governor of Texas
